Welcome Message

It gives me great pleasure to welcome you all to the Inaugural Nigerian Schools Alumni UK Sports and Family fun day.

2012 has been a unique and truly exciting year for those of us based here in the United Kingdom. We have been able to witness two once-in-a lifetime historic events; the Diamond Jubilee of Her Majesty, the Queen and the 30th Olympic Games. Later today, the Games will close and London would have played host to the finest athletes from 204 nations around the world in what would have been the biggest sporting event in history

Today's event is the brain child of Igbobi College Old Students Association (ICOBA UK) who have successfully hosted a similar event at this same venue on a smaller scale over the last five years. Using the Olympics as an inspiration, this year it was decided to involve a number of Nigerian UK based Old School Associations and organisations to host an even bigger even based on the themes of sports, fitness and fun for all the family.

This April, a planning committee comprising of a group of alumni associations was set up to produce an event with the following aims:

- To share the stories and histories of participating schools/associations
- To expose the next generation to this rich education legacy and perhaps encourage them to embrace opportunities to contribute to the progress of our great nation
- To establish a platform to foster collaboration, networking community cohesion and social inclusion between alumni and other families

We are here today to compete, socialise and have fun. It is our aim to make this an annual event and we encourage you to fill in the tear-out feedback forms at the back of the event brochure to enable us to host even better events in the future.

I would like to seize this opportunity to thank our special guests, sponsors, advertisers and everyone for supporting us and helping to make today a truly memorable one. Have a great Day!

God Bless you all,

Bimbola Babarinde,
Chair, Nigerian Schools Sports and Family Fun Day

THE NATIONAL ANTHEMS

THE NIGERIAN ANTHEM

Arise, O compatriots,
Nigeria's call obey
To serve our Fatherland
With love and strength and faith.
The labour of our heroes past
Shall never be in vain,
To serve with heart and might
One nation bound in freedom, peace and unity.

THE BRITISH ANTHEM

God save our gracious Queen,
Long live our noble Queen,
God save the Queen!
Send her victorious,
Happy and glorious,
Long to reign over us,
God save the Queen!

SCHOOL PROFILES

BAPTIST ACADEMY LAGOS was founded in 1855 and is arguably the first school established in Nigeria; its origin is traceable to African American Reverend Joseph M. Harden. The present site was first-rate legacy of the University of Lagos, inclusive of a standard football field and a sports field complete with a six-lane athletics track. The school, recently the country's representative at a science Olympiad in South Africa and Cowbell's mathematics Championship winner for secondary schools in Lagos state, is continually being blessed with a growing number of brilliant students and dedicated teaching staff of sound intellect, all making their marks everywhere. BAOSA is the UK Alumni Association of the school.

BIRCH FREEMAN HIGH SCHOOL is a boys' secondary school located in Surulere, Lagos. It was named after the first Methodist Missionary to land in Nigeria in 1824.

The school was established on the 6th of February 1960 and administered by Methodist Church (Western Nigeria District). Birch Freeman High School has produced men of different professional backgrounds, ranging from Accountants, Engineers, Barristers, Business men, Government officials and many more. Notable among them is the incumbent governor of Lagos State, Governor Raji Fashola, who represents the amiable and charismatic products of the school. The motto of the school is "trained for duty and for thee." All old boys are trained to truly believe in that. Birch Freeman Old Boys Association (BIFOBA) is the Alumni Association of the school and it currently has branches in the UK, U.S.A and Nigeria.

CHRIST'S SCHOOL ADO EKITI, was established by an English clergyman Archdeacon Dallimore as Ekiti Middle School in 1933. The name Christ's School was adopted in 1936. The School has contributed greatly to educational progress and development in Nigeria, and has produced arguably the highest numbers of professors in the country, in virtually all fields of learning. The school has also produced well known alumni and public figures, like the late Professor Sam Aluko, a renowned Economist, the late Professor Kayode Osuntokun, one of the foremost neurologists of his generation, and the current governor of Ekiti State, Dr Kayode Fayemi. Christ's School Alumni Association UK is the Old Students body in the UK.

COMPREHENSIVE HIGH SCHOOL, AIYETORO (CHSA) is a co-educational secondary school situated on a sprawling 171-hectare site, 37 kilometres west of Abeokuta in Ogun State. The school was founded in February 1963 and is a result of the joint efforts of the Old Western region government, United States Agency for International Development(USAID), Harvard University and the Ford Foundation. The school is in no doubt the precursor of the 6-3-3-4 system of education and largely responsible for the popularity of comprehensive education in the country. Fondly referred to as "Compro" the school has produced many distinguished old students who are making positive contributions in the society both in Nigeria and abroad. Founded in 2002, Compronians UK is the UK Alumni Association of CHSA.

FEDERAL GOVERNMENT GIRLS COLLEGE (FGGC) BIDA was one of the Unity Schools introduced across Nigeria in the early 1970s with the aim of promoting multiculturalism and national unity. It was established in 1974 with the first set of school leavers in 1979. The Schools Motto is: "PRO UNITATE". On leaving school, the majority of old students went on for further education and the school has since produced many professionals in different fields of life working nationally and internationally.

The idea of "UK Old Girls'' association was fostered by 3 people in 2010 when they met at Nando's restaurant in 02 Arena, London. The aim of the association is to broaden opportunities for alumni to "give back" to our school, administer numerous programs which will enhance the educational experience of current students by providing academic and financial assistance.

GOVERNMENT COLLEGE IBADAN, (founded February 28, 1929), is a "boys only" secondary school located on the hills of Apata Ganga in Ibadan, Nigeria.The expatriate Founding Fathers were Selwyn McGregor Grier, who conceived the idea of setting up the school, and V.B.V Powell, the first principal of the school. Government College was modeled after the British secondary boarding schools of the era, and the first set of students numbered twenty-nine. In the period before the dissolution of theWestern Region, Nigeria, the school earned the enviable fame of being one of the best secondary schools in Nigeria.The school has produced over 80% of the presidents of the Nigerian Society of Engineers since its inception, and one of the four Africans in history to be awarded a Nobel Prize.

GOVERNMENT COLLEGE IKORODU (GCI) is a college in Ikorodu, a city and Local Government Area in Lagos State, Nigeria. The college was opened on September 23, 1974, by the then Governor of Lagos state, Brigadier Mobolaji Johnson. Government College Ikorodu Old Students Association has members globally but the UK chapter known as GCIOSA (UK) started officially in September 2010. The vision is to do good- in different ways; caring for and developing ourselves, making connections, networking as well as building friendships and importantly too by making meaningful contribution to the progress and development of the school through various projects. The motto is - This is our Association, and together, we shall build It!

HOLY CHILD COLLEGE LAGOS was founded in 1945 by Reverend Mother Cornelia Connelly founder of The Jesuit Society of the Holy Child Jesus at the invitation of Archbishop Leo Taylor of Lagos. The foundation students of Holy Child College mostly came from Aguda (Yoruba meaning of Catholic) old Lagos families, the school Motto is 'Actions not Words'

HCCOGA-UK Branch was created in 2003 (after Lagos State handed Schools back to the Church) to rally Funds to restore the School. A formal request was made to HCCOGA-Lagos President Princess Odedina (Agbaje) for the Mandate and a Constitution. HCCOGA UK have a 140-member Mailing List and helped set-up the North America branch in 2009.

IGBOBI COLLEGE YABA, LAGOS was established in 1932 "to give a well-balanced secondary education to boys in an environment adequate for the purpose". The objective of the CMS and Methodist planners was to show that improved education could best be established under ecumenical Christian influence provided "an environment adequate for the purpose" could be located. This meant emphasizing residence for pupils and teachers, and land spacious enough to cater for this, as well as providing fields for sport, craft, farm, etc. A 32-acre plot, part of the kola plantations of the family of Madam Tinubu met these requirements, hence the name, "Igbobi" College. ICOBA UK is the UK Old Boys Association.

SCHOOL PROFILES

METHODIST GIRLS HIGH SCHOOL (MGHS) YABA was founded in 1879 originally as Wesleyan Girls School under the governance of Hoares Memorial Methodist Church, Yaba. It is the oldest Girls' school in Nigeria. The longest serving principal was Miss Lucy K Walker who retired after 17 years in 1972 The baton was handed over to Mrs Odulana and then Mrs Onafowokan. M.G.H.S was famous for its extra curricular activities and had many societies. The first Nigerian Girl guides Company in the country was formed at the school. M.G.H.S produced Nigeria's first Olympic standard School girl athlete- Modupe Oshikoya.

The School's Motto is: 'In love serve one another'

OLIVET BAPTIST HIGH SCHOOL, OYO, NIGERIA, was founded on 29 January 1945 by the American Southern Baptist Mission and the Baptist Commission.The School motto is "Cum Christo Progredere" translating to "Forward With Christ". It was formerly known as Oyo Baptist Boys' High School.The School was first located on a hillcrest named 'Olivet Heights'- as the school is fondly called. The original location (now occupied by Baptist College of Theology, Oyo) was where Rev. Pinnock, the first Baptist missionary to the ancient empire of Oyo, established a mission post.Olivet Heights is a predominantly residential high school. It has been a co-educational school for over 50 years.The school has several versatile Alumni Association Chapters (OBHSOSA-UK being one of them). All have been helpful in providing facilities for the current students of the school. Olivet Heights has proudly produced several notable Alumni.

QUEEN'S COLLEGE, LAGOS, is a government-owned girl's secondary (high) school with boarding facilities, situated in Yaba, Lagos. Often referred to as the "sister college" of King"s College, Lagos, it was founded in 1927, when Nigeria was still a British colony. Queen's College is the first non-denominational Girls school in the country. It was established with a modest enrolment of 20 students, a Principal and eight part-time teachers; Queen's College has grown to a population 3000 students, and staff strength of well over 300 full time teachers. The school has about six houses that compete in the inter-house games, namely Dan-Fodio (Red House), Obasa (Blue House), Obi (Yellow House), Emotan (Green House), Efunjoke (Purple House) and Obong (Orange House).The school has returned the best results nationwide in the West African Senior School Certificate Examination(WASSCE) conducted by the West African Examinations Council (WAEC) seven times since 1985 and is widely considered to be one of the top schools on the African continent. Its alumni include doctors, engineers, and lawyers who live and work all over the world including the United States, UK, Germany, Canada, France and other countries. The school motto is "Pass On The Torch." QCOGA (UK) is the UK Alumni Association of the school.

REAGAN MEMORIAL BAPTIST GIRLS SECONDARY SCHOOL was founded in 1941 by the Southern Baptist Missionary Board, USA. It was built on love with the school motto 'Love one Another' The school is in Yaba, Lagos State, Nigeria in West Africa. The school was named in honour of Miss Lucille Reagan a missionary who wanted the idea of having a separate Baptist high school for girls. ROGA UK is the UK Old Girls Association of the school. It has a very clear vision to support Reagan Memorial Baptist Girls' Secondary School in its contribution to the effective education of the Nigerian Child.

SCHOOL PROFILES

SOYUZNIKIS-UK, is a union of Nigerian graduates from the old USSR, where they lived as a family. Soyuznikis came from the Russian word 'Soyuz' – meaning Union. Soyuznikis-UK was formed by a group of UK based Old Soviet Union graduates to continue the love and care that existed amongst them during their stay in the Soviet Union. The main aim of Soyuznikis-UK is to support its members and to leave a lasting legacy both in Nigeria and in the United Kingdom

ST. GREGORY'S COLLEGE LAGOS was established through the efforts of the Catholic Mission in 1928 and has developed into a unique institution sought after by discerning minds who seek to partake of its calibre of education premised on the philosophy of educating the whole person; the intellect, the character and the soul. Throughout its 84 year history, the college has enrolled and educated boys (and girls in Advanced Level classes during the 1970s) to embody these ideals. The college's long and strong traditions, coupled with its enviable achievements continue to inspire and develop present and future generations of upstanding citizens.

THE CMS GRAMMAR SCHOOL LAGOS is Nigeria's oldest and foremost secondary institution. It was established on June 6, 1859 by the Church Missionary Society (CMS) with Rev. Thomas Babington Macaulay, father of the late nationalist, Herbert Macaulay as principal. The establishment of the school was part of the Missionary Society's plan to develop local educated elite which could help promote the Christian faith. The products of the CMS Grammar School filled an existing vacuum and also formed the bulk of the emergent educated elite who ended up shaping "the future of Nigeria".Some eminent old grammarians include Mr. Akintola Williams, CBE, CFR (the first Nigerian Chartered Accountant), Late Chief F.R.A. Williams, QC, SAN (first Senior Advocate of Nigeria); Earnest Shonekan, GCFR, former President of the Federal Republic of Nigeria; Dr Oladapo Fafowora, Ambassador Plenipotentiary; late Professor Ayodele Awojobi, the first African to be awarded the degree of Doctor of Science (DSc) in Mechanical Engineering at the now Imperial College London. The motto of the school is Nisi Dominus Frustra which means "Without God, We Labour in Vain".

THE LAGOS STATE FOOTBALL ASSOCIATION is the body with mandate to administer football in Lagos State. It aims to be the best FA in Africa where football administration and delivery is beneficial to not only the youths playing it, but all stakeholders involved in the game. This it plans to achieve by creating an honest, ethical, commercially viable and talent harnessing environment. The Board of the Lagos FA has therefore embarked on a massive restructuring exercise by creating a football brand in Lagos State known as 'Eko Football' – this encompasses development of football with a focus on youth football, convergence of lifestyle and football, football related learning, and the business of football.

THE LONDON NIGERIANS CRICKET CLUB was founded in 1991 by two brothers, Tom & Roland Ilube). The ethos of the club has always been based on providing a forum for people from a Nigerian background, or with an interest in Nigeria, to come together socially and to present a positive image of the motherland in their interaction with the wider community. In 2000, in its first year in a competitive league, the club won the "All-London Cricket League". In the years 2000, 2006 and 2008 the club undertook very successful tours of Nigeria. We played as many games as we could, competing against the Chairman's eleven, Shell Cricket Club and the Lagos Asians to name a few, we also engaged in a number of social activities, cricket coaching clinics and media events all designed to promote the game in Nigeria.
